MERINO STUD

“making a difference
where it counts”

It has been another jam packed year so far at Tara Park. We were thrilled with last years ram sales and looking forward to the upcoming sale with the young rams coming along nicely despite another very tough season.

Last September we joined forces with two prominent studs to privately purchase a share in an outstanding Yarrawonga ram, he is well balanced has exceptional growth rate with a beautiful free growing wool. The $60,000 price tag was believed to be the highest price paid for a private purchase last year; he will compliment the breeding programme at Tara Park adding another dimension. We A.I.d some of our top ewes to the sire with the first drop of lambs already on the ground, although early days we are excited about the prospects for this sire, the progeny will be available next year.

The Tara Park crew had a great day out at the 72nd Great Southern Supreme Merino show & Sale in Canberra, displaying the Supreme Exhibit, the Junior Champion Ewe and Grand Champion Ewe of show; collecting a total of 9 broad ribbons in all. Photo GSSM Supreme Exhibit 2019.

Undoubtedly the highlight of the year was the achievements of Tara Park blood flocks in local ewe competitions. The Boorowa flock ewe competition attracted an impressive eleven teams.

Placegetters were announced at the Boorowa Show with Tara Park teams coming in 1st, 2nd & 5th.

Congratulations to the winners Bruce & Narelle Nixon on their well presented team, 2nd place went to Danny & Matt McGrath and 5th to Dermot & Teena McGrath.

The top two teams went on to represent Boorowa in the ANZ and NSW SMBA Southern Tablelands regional competition. It was a fantastic result for the top two Tara Park flocks with Bruce & Narelle Nixon, “Clovelly” Boorowa taking out the championship title. Bruce said simplicity was the aim for breeding sheep. “We want something that is easy, free growing and cutting a good soft stylish fleece averaging 19 micron.”

Coming second in the regional competition were Danny & Matt McGrath “Clearview South” Boorowa; this has given Matt great confidence in the direction he is taking with his Tara Park blood flock.
